Red Ribbon Parade & Activities	50

Since the early 1980's the non-profit organization National Family Partnership (formerly the National Federation of Parents for Drug Free Youth) has encouraged communities around the United States to join in their efforts to keep kids drug-free. As part of those efforts, an annual Red Ribbon Parade is held and San Clemente has a history of participating in this national effort. The club helps to organize and sponsor the parade alongside of the Police department. Members helped to communicate the city's ideas to the local elementary and middle schools, helped judge various competitions prior to the event (best decorated themed classroom door, cheerleading, etc.) and helped organize and lead the parade in the city's downtown area. Our club members were happy to participate in this event as it had both a positive impact on the youth in our area as well as provided an opportunity for the club to increase our visibility within the community. We look forward to championing this event in 2020 as well.

CHOC Fleece Blankets

$600

The San Clemente Junior Woman's Club worked with CHOC Children's hospital to fulfill a need at the hospital for larger fleece blankets for teen patients. A member traveled to the garment district in Los Angeles, procured rolls of fleece (for a fantastic price!!). The Club held two "cutting parties" where the fleece was cut. Members also took fleece home to cut. The fleece was tied at the September general meeting and also blankets were taken home by members to tie. After the blankets were tied and labels stating that the blankets were made by the SCJWC were sewn on, members with pet free and smoke free homes washed the blankets and packaged them for delivery. Two deliveries were made in October to deliver the blankets at CHOC in Orange in October by members. Forty blankets were completed. A lot of love and effort went into these blankets! We hope the patients find comfort in them.

Halloween Candy for Children's Library Party	10		$100

The San Clemente Junior Woman's Club made goodie bags full of candy, treats, and toys for children attending the San Clemente Library's Halloween parade and party. Members bought items to fill the goodie bags and assembled the bags at the October general meeting. Members, some in costume or with their own children, then met at the Library party and distributed the goodie bags to children that attended the event. 75 bags were assembled for this event.
